Kids love movies. Parents like inexpensive entertainment options, and they love fun for little ones that is free.

Everyone loves to beat the heat, and this summer, many movie theaters in the Tulsa area are presenting free or reduced-price family films — all rated G or PG — in a popular weekly series format.

There are a few conditions to be aware of, some concessions specials, and the prices vary between theaters. You can note these in the following movie theater lineups of summer movies for kids and families.

Arrive early — these popular shows sometimes sell out.

BROKEN ARROW WARREN THEATRE

Admission to the “Summer Movie Express” is only $1. Tickets can be purchased at the box office each Tuesday and Wednesday for nine consecutive weeks.

Both movies listed will play on both days, with showtimes set for 10 a.m.

Special note: A portion of the ticket sales will go to the Will Rogers Institute.

June 12-13: “Despicable Me”/“Ice Age: Collision Course”

June 19-20: “Storks”/“Mr. Peabody & Sherman”

SUMMER MOVIES @ CIRCLE CINEMA

Tulsa’s historic theater is again teaming up with the Tulsa City-County Library’s summer reading program to show family-friendly films for free in July.

But that’s not all: The first 50 children who attend each show at Circle Cinema, 10 S. Lewis Ave., will also receive a free concession treat, choosing between a drink or a popcorn.

These shows will take place at 1 p.m. Tuesdays in July.

July 10: “The Greatest Showman”

July 17: “Ferdinand”

July 24: “Wonder”

July 31: “Coco”

CINEMARK’S SUMMER MOVIE CLUBHOUSE

Two of the area’s Cinemark theaters are offering a low-price deal on movies for kids: The Summer Movie Clubhouse has movies priced at $1 per show, but advance tickets are also available to see all of the movies in the series for a $5 “bundle price.”

The participating theaters are the Cinemark Broken Arrow, 1801 E. Hillside Drive, and the Cinemark Sand Springs, 1112 E. Charles Page Blvd., and each is showing the same films each week.

The movies will screen at 10 a.m., but note the different days: In Broken Arrow, each film will play Monday-Thursday mornings, or all four of the dates listed below for each film; in Sand Springs, the 10 a.m. screenings are set for Mondays and Wednesdays only from the dates below.
