TULSA - Active and retired military members can get their late fees taken care of throughout the month of November at the Tulsa City-County Library.

The move is a way to honor their service to our country.

All you'll need is military I.D., a library card and the overdue items.

Tulsa City-County Library provides a wide variety of services.

Popular library services include:

- Homework Help Now - Students will benefit from live online homework help from expert tutors available 2-11 p.m. daily.
- Job Now – Get free online job assistance for résumé help, interview coaching, career advice and GED test prep.
- Online Learning – Get professional online training by choosing from thousands of courses taught by industry experts with self-paced interactive lessons.
- Mango Languages – Use this online language-learning system to help learn by listening to native speakers. Choose from more than 60 languages.
- Freegal – Download up to five free songs a week and stream up to three movies a week. The songs are DRM free and are yours to keep.
- Zinio – Download eMagazines and stream eNewspapers from many of the most popular titles from around the world.
- eBooks and Audiobooks – Select from thousands of titles for use with a PC, Mac and a wide variety of mobile devices. Items automatically check themselves in so there are never any overdue charges.
