Events recall 79th anniversary of Kristallnacht

Nov 9, 2017

TULSA — A series of community events commemorating the 79th anniversary of Kristallnacht will feature a documentary screening and presentation by Pierre Sauvage, an Emmy Award-winning documentary filmmaker, child survivor of the Holocaust and child of Holocaust survivors, according to a news release.

“First Responders to the Holocaust,” a 79th anniversary Kristallnacht commemoration, will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Jewish Federation of Tulsa, Sylvan Auditorium at 2021 E. 71st St., Tulsa.

A live stream of the presentation will be shown at Northeastern State University’s Tahlequah campus in the Webb Building, Room 614.

During the presentation, Sauvage will discuss how the world responded, or failed to respond, to the Holocaust. Sauvage will also focus on the American response to the crisis, showing clips from his upcoming documentaries “And Crown Thy Good: Varian Fry in Marseille” and “Not Idly By: Peter Bergson, America and the Holocaust.”

This program is free and suitable for adults and youth in sixth grade and above. No reservations are required.

“Weapons of the Spirit,” a documentary created by Sauvage, will be shown at 7 p.m. Saturday, at Circle Cinema, 10 S. Lewis Ave., Tulsa.

The 1989 film highlights how the world responded, or failed to respond, to the Holocaust. A question and answer session with Sauvage will follow the film. Visit circlecinema.com or stop by the box office to purchase tickets.

General admission tickets are $9.50. Tickets for military, students and teachers are $7.50.

These events are a collaborative effort by the Tulsa Council for Holocaust Education, Tulsa City-County Library, Circle Cinema, Northeastern State University, Jewish Foundation of Tulsa and NEA Big Read.
