TULSA LIBRARY HOLDS AMNESTY FOR OVERDUE FINES

By: Michael Purdy

March 29, 2017 9:00 AM

Wed, March 29, 2017 - Do you have an overdue book that has been mocking you from your bookshelf?

If the answer is yes and you got that book from the Tulsa City-County Library, then you're in luck.

The library announced they will be running a Customer Fine Amnesty Program from April 1-30. During this time, the library will forgive overdue fines, for items returned in good condition.

Also, customers must contact the library either in person or on the phone with a library card number, to have the fines waived.
