Local bookworms will share their insights on a favorite novel during the "Books Sandwiched In" series at Central Library's Aaronson Auditorium, Fifth Street and Denver Avenue.

Each Monday from 12:10-12:50 p.m., beginning March 6, hear an enlightening book review. Those attending may bring a lunch to enjoy during the reviews or purchase food from the Starbucks located on the Central Library's main floor.

March 6 – "The Hamilton Affair" by Elizabeth Cobbs will be reviewed by Sloan Davis, an assistant professor of English at Tulsa Community College.

March 13 – "Patriotic Betrayal: The Inside Story of the CIA's Secret Campaign to Enroll American Students in the Crusade Against Communism" by Karen M. Paget will be reviewed by Eldon Eisenach, a retired political science professor.

March 20 – "The Architect's Apprentice" by Elif Shafak will be reviewed by Kalpana Misra, dean of the Kendall College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Tulsa.

March 27 – "How Not to Be Wrong: The Power of Mathematical Thinking" by Jordan Ellenberg will be reviewed by Vane Lucas, president of the Mathnasium Learning Centers.

April 3 – "Kind of Kin" by award-winning Oklahoma author Rilla Askew will be reviewed by the Rev. Mary Anne Harris.

April 10 – "Notorious RBG: The Life and Times of Ruth Bader Ginsburg" by Irin Carmon and Shana Knizhnik will be reviewed by Catherine Gatchell, a retired attorney.

The series is sponsored by the Friends of the Tulsa City-County Libraries.

For more information, call 918-549-7323, or visit the library's website, tulsalibrary.org.

Staffing problems

High turnover, overtime cuts and increased part-time hours put a squeeze on the Oklahoma Department of Veterans Affairs staff, an analysis indicates.

The analysis, released by the Oklahoma Department of Veterans Affairs, shows that the department's staff has been reduced by more than 20% since 2010. This has led to increased overtime and the hiring of more part-time staff.

The department's budget has also been cut, leading to the loss of many positions. This has resulted in a significant loss of expertise and knowledge within the department.
