Wowbrary

If you would like to be among the first to learn about the newest books, DVDs and CDs acquired by the library, you should consider signing up for Wowbrary.

Wowbrary is a free public service that sends you a weekly email newsletter showcasing Tulsa City-County Library's most recent acquisitions. All titles are neatly categorized to save you time, with descriptions, reviews and a click-through to the library catalog for placing reservations. Once each month, Wowbrary also includes a link to Bestsellers Coming Soon — a list of hot titles recently ordered by the library. This is your chance to reserve copies of the newest blockbusters months before they are published.

Visit www.wowbrary.org/signup.aspx to sign up, or call the Collinsville Library at 918-549-7528 and we will do it for you.

Home Library Holds and Renewals

If you've ever found yourself with a looming due date and couldn't get to the library in time, you'll be happy to learn that you can renew your items online by logging into your account on the library's website.

To log in, first go to our home page, then click on the "My TCCL" tab on the red bar near the top of the page. First time users will need to create a username and follow the prompts for a small amount of additional info, such as birth date and email address, in order to complete the setup.

While you are logged into your account, you can also place holds on library items. To place a hold, pull up the catalog page of the title you'd like, then click the green 'Place a Hold' button on the left side of the page.

Or, if you are looking at a list of search results, you can also place a hold on an item from the list by selecting the 'Place a Hold' option that appears on the right side of the item's title. In either case, you then will select a pickup location.
