Tulsa City-County Library's 2016 summer reading programs for children, teens and even adults, encourage readers to keep the pages turning during the summer.

The free annual program started May 31 and will continue through August 6. To sign up, children and teens, ages newborn to 17, and adults can register at any Tulsa City-County Library or online at www.tulsalibrary.org/summer - no library card required!

The summer reading program is a fun way to keep students reading throughout the summer to help retain and improve their reading skills. The program goes beyond the books by offering hundreds of free programs that will expand the imagination. Performers and presenters from Tulsa, Oklahoma and across the U.S. participate to help bring books to life.

Brad "Bradini" Evans performed his magic show at the Skiatook Library June 7. His magic has a lot of humor and is geared toward teaching children the value of reading.

The theme for the children's program is "On Your Mark, Get Set...Read" and the tween/teen program theme is "Get in the Game - Read."

By visiting the library four times and reading or having eight books read to them, children will complete the program and earn a medal of achievement, and a booklet of coupons for free entertainment and food items.
