Kristallnacht Commemoration to feature Holocaust survivor

Peter Feigl was a German Schoolboy living in Vienna when the Nazis annexed Austria.

Although Peter was baptized Catholic, the Nazis considered him racially Jewish. Peter's parents sent him to a Catholic summer camp for safekeeping, and through an extended network of rescuers, he survived the war.

His wartime diary was recovered and published in Salvaged Pages: Young Writers' Diaries of the Holocaust, edited by Alexandra Zapruder. He also is featured in the State of Deception: The Power of Nazi Propaganda exhibit at the Sherwin Miller Museum of Jewish Art.

Feigl will join us via Skype for a Q&A session moderated by Lisa Bauman, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum Teacher Fellow. Bauman also will discuss her work with Alexandra Zapruder on new curriculum to accompany Salvaged Pages, which will be released next year.

Rabbi Dan Kaiman of Congregation B'nai Emunah will offer some words of remembrance on this 77th anniversary of Kristallnacht — the event that is widely considered to be the beginning of the Holocaust.

This program is free and suitable for adults and youth in sixth grade and above. No reservations are required. Following the program, attendees will have an opportunity to visit the State of Deception exhibit at no charge.

The event begins at 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 8, at the Jewish Federation of Tulsa, Sylvan Auditorium, 2021 E. 71st St., Tulsa. It is sponsored by Tulsa City-County Library, The Tulsa Council for Holocaust Education and Jewish Federation of Tulsa.

POWER STATION

Choya Shropshire, Substation Superintendent

An investment of over $140 million in electric power lines and substations across Oklahoma gives the Grand River Dam Authority the equipment it needs to deliver the "power for progress" to its customers.

However, it is the investment of time, talent and expertise, on the part of employees like Choya Shropshire, that gives GRDA the ability it needs to make sure those deliveries are reliable.

All those lines, breakers and transformers are backed up by Team GRDA; a "power station" of employees working 24/7/365 to bring low-cost, reliable electricity to Oklahom

Learn more about GRDA and read The Power of Power book at www.grda.com.
