

GOOD AS NEW

The Owasso Public Library closed and went under some renovations last week and reopened to the public Monday. These are photos of what changed and new things to expect at the library now.

This will be one of several new machines that can check several books out simultaneously by simply placing on the glass plate pictured. HAYLIE SMART/Owasso Reporter

Customers will see many new and exciting changes at the Owasso Public Library after it undergoes an inside remodel.

HAYLIE SMART/
Owasso Reporter

The large circulation desk near the front of the library has been removed and will be replaced with stations throughout the library for more helpful and immediate assistance.

HAYLIE SMART/Owasso Reporter

The library now has convenient book-drops, which will be located behind the library so guests no longer have to leave their vehicles to return books. HAYLIE SMART/Owasso Reporter

October is

 Pastor
 Appreciation Month

Call or email Brandi for more information at (918) 272-1155 or bsmith@owassoreporter.com to give a special shout out to your Pastor. Only $50 (includes photo).

OWASSO REPORTER