From the information you provide, library staff will develop a custom reading guide with suggested authors and titles you might enjoy.

Need to Learn Computer Skills? The Library Can Help.

The Collinsville Library is not offering any computer classes in August — but, you can still learn computer skills with online tools at Learning Express, a database available through Tulsa City-County Library at www.tulsalibrary.org/databases.

Its Popular Software Tutorials package offers interactive video tutorials to help you master Microsoft Office and Windows or Mac operating systems.

You will want to create a user name and password, in order to save your progress as you revisit the site for the various tutorials. You can access this resource 24/7 and it's free with your library card.

Collinsville Book Discussion

Our next meeting is at noon Tuesday, Sept. 8. We will discuss The Eye of God, by James Rollins. Copies of the book are available at the Collinsville Library. Please join us.

What We're Reading

Yes Please, by Amy Poehler

In a perfect world...we'd get to hang out with Amy Poehler, watching dumb movies, listening to music and swapping tales about our coworkers and difficult childhoods.

Because in a perfect world, we'd all be friends with Amy — someone who seems so fun, is full of interesting stories, tells great jokes and offers plenty of advice and wisdom (the useful kind, not the annoying kind you didn't ask for, anyway).

A collection of stories, thoughts, ideas, lists and haikus from the mind of one of our most beloved entertainers, Yes Please offers Amy's thoughts on everything from her "too safe" childhood outside of Boston to her early days in New York City, her ideas about Hollywood and "the biz," the demon that looks back at all of us in the mirror, and her joy at being told she has a "face for wigs."

Yes Please is chock-full of words and wisdom to live by.
