Broken Arrow Ledger 19

Fun place in the summer time

By Jo-Ann Jennings

Eric McKinney, Sabina Busch and Joella Bompuk were just three of many teen volunteers who worked at the Broken Arrow Library last week, signing up youth for the Teen/Tween Summer Reading Program.

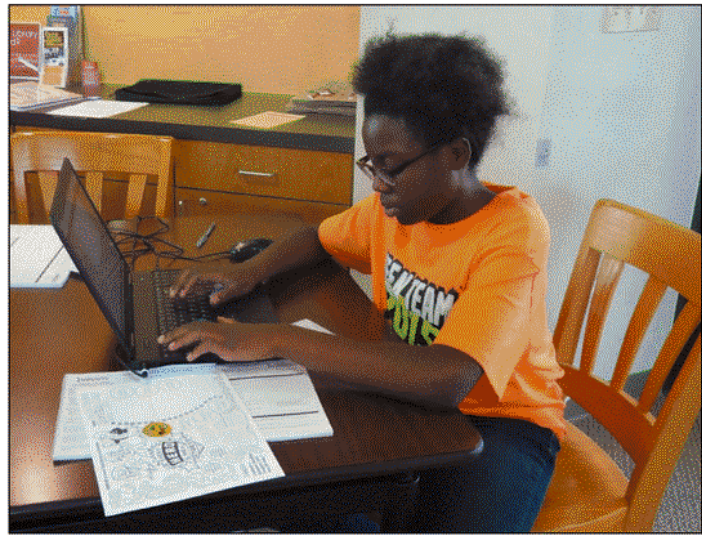

The job looks like a fun one, handing out shopping bags and bookmarks with a super hero theme and explaining the sign-up process.

Those who sign up and read or listen to six books before Aug. 1 can earn a flashlight and coupons for free entertainment and food items. In addition to digital badges, coupons and grand prizes, the summer continues to promise more fun.

Signing up from a choice of several programs, tweens and teens have a chance to win $20 gift cards from several major, favorite stores. Some of the fun prizes include a

"Squishy Circuit Kit" for attending a science program at the library and entering the drawing; attending a local fitness event or trying out a new exercise and entering a drawing for a rock climbing course at New Heights gym; or checking out or downloading an audiobook and entering a drawing for a set of Audiofly earbuds.

Visit a library dressed as a superhero and be entered in a drawing for a Sakura Club pass to Tokyo in Tulsa.

END OF A SHIFT — Joella Bompuk finishes up a few last minute computer items before her volunteer shift at the BA Library ends.
