May is designated as National Chamber Music Month, and there is likely no better way to start the celebration than with a performance by the Emerson String Quartet.

Chamber Music Tulsa is presenting this acclaimed, award-winning ensemble in a special concert at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Philbrook Museum of Art, 2727 S. Rockford Road.

It's the first time the quartet has performed in Tulsa since the departure of longtime cellist David Finkel and the addition of Paul Watkins.

Seating is limited but tickets are still available. Tickets are $50. Call 918-587-3802 or go to chambermusictulsa.org. A reception will follow the performance.

The following week, Chamber Music Tulsa will host a weeklong residency with the Imani Winds, as part of its participation in the Any Given Child program.

This acclaimed quintet of woodwind players will be performing morning and afternoon
