Celebrate National Library Week April 12-18

This week, the Owasso Library, and all of the Tulsa City-County Library system, joins libraries in schools, campuses and communities nationwide in celebrating National Library Week, a time to highlight the changing role of libraries, librarians and library workers.

Libraries today are more than warehouses for books. Librarians are change agents within their communities — transforming lives through innovative educational resources and forward-thinking programming.

Libraries are doing their part to close the digital divide and level the playing field by providing free access to information and technologies that many in their communities would be hard pressed to find elsewhere.

Libraries help to ensure the American dream and promote democracy by providing service to all regardless of race, ethnicity, creed, age, ability, sexual orientation, gender identity or socio-economic status.

Librarians work with elected officials, small business owners, students and the public at large to discover and meet the needs of their communities.

plish your goals and dreams. National Library Week recognizes the contributions of the following:

National Library Workers Day
April 14 — a day for library staff, users, administrators and Friends groups to recognize the valuable contributions made by all library workers.

National Bookmobile Day
April 15 — a day to recognize the contributions of our nation's bookmobiles and the dedicated professionals who make quality bookmobile outreach possible in their communities.

Teen Literature Day
April 16 — a day to raise awareness that young adult literature is a vibrant, growing genre with much to offer today's teens.

Continue the celebration by visiting your neighborhood library any day in April and discovering all the unlimited possibilities at your library!

First sponsored in 1958, National Library Week is a national observance sponsored by the American Library Association and libraries
