What does the OWASSO FAMILY PLACE as a Family Place library?

There are several different areas of the library involved in Family Place. Last year we redesigned our children's area to be more open and inviting.

We moved shelving to make more space, bought new comfortable furniture, and provided educational toys. We hope it now is an area that encourages interaction, imagination and socialization.

We have a Family Place parenting collection in the children's area, which includes books on parenting, information on encouraging early literacy skills at home, bibliographies and information from community agencies of interest to parents.

...the workshop, it will be from 10:00 a.m. Fridays, Sept. 19, 26 and Oct. 3, 10, 17. Class size is limited. Registration is required and is for the five week series. Call (918) 549-7624 to register.

How do we provide these services?
The Family Place project is made possible by a grant from the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services. The Owasso Library is one of 28 in the nation selected to develop the Family Place Libraries model of early childhood and family services that has been successfully implemented in over 380 libraries in 27 states.

In addition to the Owasso branch, three other Tulsa City-County Library branch libraries were funded and are piloting this program in the Tulsa area.
