Ruthe Blalock Jones to be inducted into Tulsa City-County Library's Circle of Honor

From Staff Reports
 news@owassoreporter.com

Tulsa City-County Library's American Indian Resource Center will induct Ruthe Blalock Jones into the Circle of Honor.

The presentation will be held at 10:30 a.m. March 1, at Hardesty Regional Library's Connor's Cove, 8316 E. 93rd St.

Jones' award presentation begins the monthlong American Indian Festival of Words celebration honoring the achievements and accomplishments of Native Americans. Programs will be held throughout TCCL locations during March. All library events are free and open to the public.

Jones, of Shawnee-Delaware-Peoria descent, was born in Claremore. Her work as an artist began at age 10 under the tutelage of Charles Banks Wilson. At age 13, she entered the Philbrook Indian Annual show and earned an honorable mention.

Her works focus on the traditional American Indian ceremonial and social events. They are recorded in paintings, drawings, limited edition prints in linoleum block, woodcut and serigraphs.

The Circle of Honor ceremony recognizes an American Indian for his or her achievements by acknowledging the inductee's contributions that have enriched others' lives and by celebrating the inductee's action in the face of adversity, commitment to the preservation of American Indian culture and legacy for future generations.

"I was proud and honored when I was informed that I had been named to the Circle of Honor. It is especially humbling and gratifying to follow in such a prestigious
