Nesbitt teaches holiday cartooning

By Sarah "Mac" McCallion Jenks News Editor SarahMac@SouthCountyLeader.com

Finishing up with their holiday series, the Jenks Library, 523 W. B St., hosted Jenks West Intermediate Art Teacher Romney Nesbitt to teach a seminar.

The class taught tweens to make holiday cards. Nesbitt instructed students in drawing and cartooning.

"I usually teach one cartooning class at the library each year," said Nesbitt, who is JWT's Teacher of the Year. "Cheryl [the Jenks librarian] is a long time friend. When I started teaching school she asked me to do something for the teen group here.

"I come up with cartooning because it is always fun- kids love cartooning. I pick out some easy things and try to give them as many choices as possible."

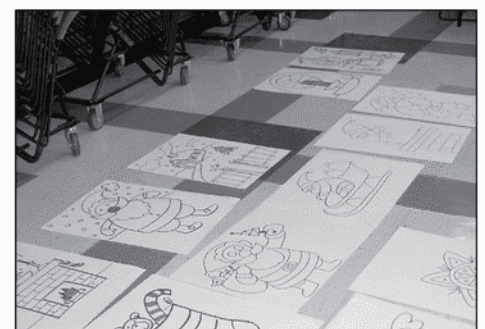

Nesbitt said she has always been a big supporter of the Jenks library, coming even back when it was just a book mobile.

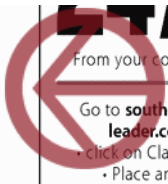

"My family are big library patrons. I've done these classes for a few years now and I'm always happy to do them because I love the library."
